TECHNOLOGIES

What does Sensible mean to you?

Does it mean streamlining processes to improve efficiencies? Maybe it means reducing overhead, while giving your customers the best possible service and products. Or maybe it's relying on systems and parts that are easy to operate and service, so downtime is never a problem.

For us, Sensible means all of the above.

At Sensible Technologies, we offer intelligent inserting solutions that improve your bottom line. Our approach to intelligent mail equipment, software and service starts with the most important capabilities and strips away everything unnecessary to provide a system that's easy to operate, easy to service and keeps you up and running longer.

We are committed to keeping our designs simple for a solution that delivers more uptime, lower operating costs and higher productivity.

Introducing: The MPM (multipageMAILER)

One example of our commitment to innovation and efficiency is the MPM (multipageMAILER). This new product focuses on providing mailers with time, space and efficiency, by allowing for the production of transactional documents and letters with matching envelopes in a single pass.

The MPM feeds, folds and seals an envelope inline, using the same paper used for the interior sheets. Designed for simplicity, it's easy to install and use, with compact construction and touch screen operation.

Ideal for mailers who have invested in high-speed inkjet printers, the MPM offers key benefits, including: convenience and efficiency; security and data privacy for recipients; eliminated need for #10 envelopes; reduced warehouse space; reduced overhead and physical footprint; personalized messaging on outer envelopes, and marketing opportunities via Onsert messaging on the inside of the envelope.
