

Solutions at the center of our customers' transformation to modern digital businesses

Crawford Technologies Inc. (CrawfordTech) provides award-winning innovative, enterprise level, document and data solutions that streamline document processing in all stages of the document life-cycle. CrawfordTech offers output management, enterprise content management, and document accessibility solutions — all designed to assist organizations in their path to digital enterprises. Our core expertise in document re-engineering and process automation helps our customers navigate the challenges of transforming technology solutions into desired business outcomes while saving significant time and money.

CrawfordTech's document reengineering solution, Operations Express, in conjunction with our integration and automation platform, PRO Conductor, makes it easy to automate and orchestrate every step of your CCM environment to reduce costs and improve performance. Our solutions get the right data to the right process at the right time to help save you money and time. CrawfordTech's new PDF accelerator is a new offering that speeds up PDF processing, expands output options and enables troublesome files to be easily processed.

Operations Express is an advanced solution for re-engineering and enhancing existing print streams to drive efficiencies without having to make expensive and time-consuming upstream application changes. Ensure accurate results with piece level tracking by easily adding barcodes and generating Mail Run Data Files (MRDF). Customers gain the flexibility to consolidate work on fewer devices to optimize production while maximizing utilization and savings.

PRO Conductor provides the visibility, insights, and controls needed to reduce manual touchpoints, streamline onboarding, optimize workflows, and drive results across your operation — all from a single dashboard. Real-time enterprise level tracking of files, jobs, and postage drives greater productivity and SLA performance while piece-level tracking enables automated reprints, accurate results, and proof of processing. Architected to integrate existing software and hardware solutions, this platform helps avoid costly implementations and realize a positive ROI.

CrawfordTech's +73 Net Promoter Score (NPS®) is a testament to the quality, timeliness, and accuracy of support and professional services. Products and services are offered directly and through a global network of partners.
