AccuZIP's recently launched Professional Services Group assists in advanced integrations and complex workflows so customers can focus on running their businesses. The AccuZIP Professional Services team motto is 'Where We Adapt to You'. Using Professional Services limits changes to existing processes and eases implementation so customer partners can process more work in less time.

For over 25 years, AccuZIP, Inc. has built an outstanding reputation for value, service and innovation. Providing excellent, efficient and courteous technical support and customer service for all our products and services is a top priority.

One of the biggest demonstrations of customer support is AccuZIP's long-standing price-lock guarantee. Customer partners pay their original price for AccuZIP products and services, regardless of subsequent price changes. Today, AccuZIP continues to charge long-time customers the same rates they paid in 1992.

AccuZIP CEO Steve Belmonte recently stated, "People like consistency and dependability. They want to trust the brand. That's why the price-lock guarantee is hugely important—our customer partners can depend on consistent postal software budgets every year." AccuZIP has built our name on this type of care, and our vision. Trust and consistency matter.
